1. Whatever begins to exist has a cause.

- Analyzing the empty tomb narrative
- Discussing the post-resurrection appearances of Jesus

- Recognizes the existence of genuine moral free will
- Argues that evil results from human choices rather than God's inability

His work has sparked both admiration and controversy, particularly for his defense of the Kalam Cosmological Argument, the historical reliability of the resurrection, and the coherence of theism.

Core Contributions to Christian Apologetics

1. The Kalam Cosmological Argument

One of Craig's signature contributions is his development and popularization of the Kalam Cosmological Argument. This argument seeks to demonstrate the existence of a necessary, uncaused cause—namely, God—based on the premise that everything that begins to exist has a cause.

Main points of the Kalam Cosmological Argument:

1. Whatever begins to exist has a cause.
2. The universe began to exist.
3. Therefore, the universe has a cause.
4. This cause is argued to be uncaused, timeless, changeless, and immensely powerful—attributes that align with the Christian conception of God.

Craig offers scientific and philosophical evidence for the universe's beginning, including the Big Bang theory and philosophical arguments against an infinite regress of past causes.

1. The Historicity of the Resurrection

Another cornerstone of Craig's apologetics is his defense of the historical reliability of the resurrection of Jesus Christ. Through rigorous historical and textual analysis, Craig argues that the resurrection is the best explanation for the available evidence.

Key points include:

1. The early eyewitness testimony and the rapid growth of Christianity.
2. The empty tomb as a historical fact.
3. The transformation of the disciples from despair to bold proclamation.

4. The post-resurrection appearances reported by multiple independent sources.

Craig's detailed historical case aims to establish that belief in the resurrection is not only rational but also supported by compelling historical data.

1. The Moral Argument for God

Craig also advocates for the moral argument, which posits that objective moral values point to a moral lawgiver—God. He argues that moral objectivity cannot be explained by naturalistic means alone and that the existence of moral duties and values presupposes a moral foundation rooted in a divine being.

Philosophical and Theological Methodology

William Lane Craig's approach is characterized by:

1. Rigorous logical reasoning: He emphasizes clarity, coherence, and logical rigor in all his arguments.
